EGYPT

Egypt is both an ancient, storied land as well as a modern country that functions as a veritable open-air museum. The bustling capital city of Cairo is full of both modern comforts and relics of a long-past era with the Nile River running through it. Home to some of the most visited attractions on the planet, the Cairo region offers visitors the chance to explore the ancient Pyramids of Giza, the Sphinx, the Valley of the Kings, the Valley of the Queens, and the National Museum of Egyptian Civilization. Further south, Luxor has a host of museums, obelisks and other opportunities to view ancient ruins. An archeological treasure trove with several UNESCO heritage sites, Egypt has several outdoor bazaars, vast architectural marvels and more historical sites and artifacts to explore than there is time to take it all in.

JORDAN

As a crossroads of culture, Jordan's capital city of Amman sits below seven hills blending historic landmarks and modern convenience. The Dead Sea lies at the lowest point on earth, and its dense waters of salt and mineral are said to have healing properties by those who float and bathe in it. The nearby city of Petra, nicknamed the "Rose City" for the shade of the rocks from which it was hand-carved out of stone, stands as one of the most profound archaeological sites in the world.

UNITED ARAB EMIRATES

Abu Dhabi is one of seven federations comprising the United Arab Emirates, serving as the capital, and anchoring the country's cultural centerpiece. It's also an outdoor extravaganza for the adventurous with lush mangrove forests, sand dunes and rivers. Desert safaris are a popular pastime among guests of the Emirates. Dubai is the most populated of the Emirates and location of the world's tallest building: the Burj Khalifa. Home to 3 million people, an unmatched skyline, and opulence in entertainment, dining, and accommodations, Dubai boasts legendary nightlife as well as many five-star hotels. With luxurious shopping experiences, world-class beaches, and several artificial islands, Dubai is where the desert meets the sea on the Arabian Peninsula.
